TERRITORIAL BILLS.

The following are the provisions of the act for the settlement of the Boundary between New Mexico and Texas:

A BILL.

Proposing to the State of Texas the establishment of her Northern and Western boundaries, the relinquishment by said State of all territory claimed by her exterior to said boundaries, and of all her claims upon the United States.

Be it enacted, &c. That the following propositions shall be, and the same hereby are offered to the State of Texas, which, when agreed to by the said State in an act passed by the General Assembly, shall be binding and obligatory upon the United States and upon the said State of Texas; Provided, That said agreement by the said General Assembly shall be given on or before the 1st day of December, 1850.

1st. The State of Texas will agree that her boundary on the North shall commence at the point at which the meridian of 100 degrees west from Greenwich is intersected by the parallel of 36 degrees and 30 minutes north lattitude, and shall run from said point due west to the meridian of 103 degrees west from Greenwich; thence her boundary shall run due south to the 32d degree of north latitude to the Rio Bravo del Norte; and thence with the channel of said river to the Gulf of Mexico.

2d. The State of Texas cedes to the United States all her claims to territory exterior to her limits and boundaries, which she agrees to establish by the first article of this agreement.

3d. The State of Texas relinquishes all claim upon the United States for liability for the debts of Texas, and for compensation or indemnity for the surrender to the United States of her ships, forts, arsenals, custom houses, custom-house revenue, arms and munitions of war, and public buildings with their sites, which became the property of the United States at the time of the annexation.

4th. The United States in consideration of such reduction of boundaries, cession of territory, and relinquishment of claims, will pay to the State of Texas the sum of ten millions of dollars in a stock bearing five per cent interest, and redeemable at the end of fourteen years, the interest payable half-yearly at the Treasury of the United States.

5th. Immediately after the President of the United States shall have been furnished with an authentic copy of the act of the General Assembly of Texas, accepting these propositions, he shall cause the stock to be issued in favor of the State of Texas, as provided for in the fifth article of this agreement.

Provided also, That five millions of said stock shall not be issued until the creditors of said State, holding bonds of Texas, for which duties on imports were specifically pledged, shall first file, at the Treasury of the United States, releases of all claims against the United States for or on account of said bonds.

The bill organizing New-Mexico as a Territory of the United States passed the Senate on the 15th Aug. and was spliced to the Boundary bill in the House on the 5th Sept. by 106 to 99. This bill is very long, and consists mainly of the usual provisions, (for which see any act organizing a U. S. Territory.) The following are its more material provisions:

The first section of the bill enacts that all that portion of Territory of the United States, bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point in the Colorado River, where the boundary line of the Republic of Mexico crosses the same; thence eastwardly with said boundary line to the Rio Grande; thence following the main channel of said River to the parallel of the 32d degree of north latitude; thence eastward with said degree to its intersection with the 103d degree of longitude west from Greenwich; thence north with said degree of longitude to the parallel of the 38th degree of north latitude, thence west with said parallel to the summit of the Sierra Madre; thence south with the crest of said mountains to the 37th parallel of north latitude; thence west with the said parallel to its intersection with the boundary line of the State of California; thence with the said boundary line to the place of beginning, be, and the same is hereby, erected into a temporary Government by the name of the Territory of New Mexico. Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed to inhibit the Government of the United States from dividing said Territory into two or more Territories, in such manner and at such times as Congress shall deem convenient and proper, or from attaching any portion thereof to any other Territory or State. Provided, further, That when admitted as a State, the said Territory, or any portion of the same, shall be received into the Union, with or without slavery, as their Constitution may prescribe at the time of their admission.

The seventeenth section enacts that the provisions of this bill be suspended until the disputed boundary between the United States and the State of Texas shall be adjusted; and when such adjustment shall have been effected, the President of the United States shall issue his proclamation declaring this act to be in full force and operation, and shall proceed to appoint the officers herein provided to be appointed for the said Territory.

The above two conjoined bills, after being decisively rejected, passed the House on Friday, Sept. 6th, by a vote of 108 to 98, and their conjunction was assented to by the Senate and the double bill thus passed. It was signed by the President on Monday the 9th Sept., and is now the law of the land.

An Englishman was put off of an express train at Thompsonville, Conn., on its way to Hartford, because he could not pay his fare. In revenge he placed a number of sleepers across the rails in that vicinity. The evening express train up struck the first one and threw it off, when the cars were stopped and the others removed. The last train down the same night, also found some on the track, and having proceeded with caution for fear of meeting such obstructions, escaped any accident therefrom. The Englishman was arrested, and evidence quite positive found against him.

The Ocala (Fla.) Argus of the 10th of August, says that a white boy was recently stolen by the Indians from the lower part of that county. The lad had been sent for a branding iron. The horse which he rode returned that night with the boy's suspenders braided in his mane. Investigation proved the vicinity of Indians. Much excitement prevails. Families are again breaking up.

An honest Dutchman, in training up his little son in the way he should go, frequently exercised him in Bible lessons. On one of these occasions, he asked him,

"Who vas dat would not sleep mit Botipher's wife?"

"Shoseph."

"Dat's a coot boy! Vel, vat vas de reason vy he would not shleep mit her?"

"Don't know; sphose he vas not shleepy."

A little boy was sent up stairs by his mother to get a satchel that hung behind a wardrobe.—The boy returned without it, and was asked

"Couldn't you find it?"

"Yes, it was there, but---"

"Why didn't you get it then?"

"Because the old musket stood close by it," said the boy, shaking his head knowingly, "and I was afraid it would snap at me."

Rebecca Smith, of the town of Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y., who is 90 years of age, has spooled and quilled the yarn for 1000 yards of cloth and knit sixty pairs of stockings, within the last ten months, besides attending to her household duties, usually making her own and two other beds daily.

It appears from a return to Parliament, that in the year ending the 5th of January last, the duty was paid on 6,936,003 gallons of British spirits for consumption in Scotland. In the previous year the number was rising 6,500,000.

The motion made in the Criminal Court at St. Louis, by the counsel of the Brothers Montesqui, to appoint physicians to inquire into the sanity of Gonzales Montesqui, has been overruled by Judge Colt.

Thomas H. Benton is placed at the head of the editorial columns of the Democratic State Register, of Wisconsin, as a candidate for the Presidency, subject to the decision of the National Convention.

The assessed value of property in New Bedford amounts in the aggregate, to $18,632,670. The tax is $4,50 on the thousand.

The interments at St. Louis for the week ending Aug. 24 were 100—29 of which were from cholera, and 73 children under five years of age.

All church yards in London are to be closed forever on the 1st of July, 1851, when burials are to take place in the suburban cemeteries.

Some of the growers of strawberries for the London market have as many as twenty five acres of land planted with this fruit.

The price of the journey from Paris to London, or vice versa, is now reduced to about three dollars.

The man who got intoxicated on root beer, and then tried to cut his throat with a mackerel, has had his sentence commuted.

The House of Commons have, by a large majority, granted the present Duke of Cambridge a pension of £12,000 per annum.

The wife of Hon. Josiah Quincy, Sen., recently died at their residence in Quincy.

LOOK AT THIS, EMIGRANTS AND OTHERS!

300 FAMILIES WANTED, WHO wish Homes. Having completed my survey in the southern part of the city of San Jose, in all 900 lots, 25 by 17 1-2 varas, and being desirous to have improvements go on rapidly, I propose to give 300 lots to settlers who will build a neat, suitable house on each lot, and fence the same.

I have also over 100 lots, 50 varas square, in the Old Survey of the city, which I will sell low, and give time on part. The lots I own in the Old and New surveys of the city are decidedly the best locations for buildings, being high and dry, and never subject to overflow; with the very best mountain water, obtained at the depth of 12 to 14 feet.

I think lumber shippers would do well to call and take a look at my lots. I will give them lots to build houses on, or will exchange lots for lumber of all kinds, or houses.

THE VALLEY.—We have a greater number of acres equal to the best Illinois land, than can be seen in any other north or east of us, in California; and the grain-growing portions of the world, so far as I am acquainted, cannot equal us in producing wheat, both in quality and quantity: 60 bushels have been raised to the acre, and there can be seen now in the fields and gardens of our farmers, as fine crops as a majority of the States can produce at and vegetables of all kinds in abundance growing, and that too, without rain or watering.

CLIMATE AND HEALTH.—Listen, now:—The average summer heat is 75 to 80 degs., with cool nights; no musquitoes, day or night; no fever and ague, and no disease peculiar to the valley or town, winter or summer.—We have some of the first settlers living with us yet, over 100 years of age, and one in particular, over 110, sound in body and mind. We have had but one death out of the immigration of 1846, an old gentleman, who was broken down with disease before he came to our city.

THE MORALS of our city and vicinity will, I make no doubt, compare with those of the best of our neighboring cities and towns. We are a law abiding and a law supporting people, and have our churches and schools as well as others.

Persons wishing lots will apply soon to the subscriber in the south end of the city. JAMES F. REED.

DAILY PACIFIC NEWS.

MONDAY MORNING, NOV 4, 1850.

J. WISCHESTER ..... EDITOR.
H. L. WINANTS and C. M. BLAKE, Assistants

☞ The Office of Publication is on the second story of the building, in Montgomery street, occupied by Payne & Sherwood, Auctioneers, where advertisements and communications may be left. The management of the business of the establishment will be under the charge of Mr. A. SKILLMAN.

☞ Thompson & Hitchcock, agents of Gregory's Express, corner of Wall and Pearl streets, New York, are authorized to receive advertisements and subscriptions for the Pacific News.

AGENTS FOR THE PACIFIC NEWS.—Col. Joseph Grant is an Agent for Sacramento City and the valley above.

D. H. Mason, Esq. will hereafter act for us in San Jose, to whom subscriptions may be paid.

OFFICE WANTED—Suitable rooms for the Printing and Publication Offices of the Pacific News are wanted, in some central and eligible situation in or near Montgomery street. Rooms in a brick building preferred: or any party about to erect a brick edifice may make an arrangement with the publishers by application at the office.

☞ The demand for the Pacific News has for some time past been much greater than we have been able to meet, though striking off considerable extra editions. Those, therefore, who wish to have the paper must leave their address at the office, over Payne's Auction Store, Montgomery street, when copies will be left at an early hour by the carriers.

☞ We hope very soon to be able to satisfy those of our old friends who decline to send in their advertisements because we don't present a handsome an appearance as before the fire; for ere many weeks we shall be able, by the aid of other of our friends—and real ones, too—to present the "News" in a handsome dress of new type, "with pieters to match." We have nothing to complain of, except our inability from want of materials, to execute the orders poured in upon us for work of every description. If we are not as handsome as our neighbors, we shall endeavor to be as good, and trust to be rewarded by the public accordingly.

BOARD OF HEALTH.—The ordinance for the organization of a Board of Health, to be composed of three members of the Common Council, three physicians, and three citizens, has been passed, and an election will take place this evening, in joint meeting of the two Boards. Let the best and most experienced men be selected, in whose character the public can repose confidence, and we may hope for the adoption of such sanitary regulations as will have a tendency to check the progress of the cholera, and engender a hopeful feeling among the people.

THE WEATHER.—The day, yesterday, was truly one of the most delightful we have enjoyed during the season. The air was soft and balmy, and just of a temperature to be pleasant and invigorating. It seems strange that an air so bland should contain the seeds of pestilence; and we cannot help thinking there are other causes for the cholera, founded rather upon a want of cleanliness and the decomposition of immense quantities of offal, than a condition of the atmosphere, or the theory of contagion.

EXTENSIVE FIRE.—The attention of our citizens was attracted, on Saturday evening, to the lurid glare of an extensive conflagration over the mountains of Contra Costa, directly opposite the city across the bay. The heavens were lighted up for several hours, and the effect was quite grand. The cause is, of course, entirely unknown; whether from the dry grass, upon the mountains, or the State buildings at Vallejo, time will probably determine. If the latter, the calamity will be severely felt, and the removal of the seat of government be deferred for several years—if not longer. Quien Sabe?

☞ The following are the rates of toll on the plank road to the Mission, as established by the Ordinance of the Council:

For each horse, mule, or ass and rider, 25 cents. For each led or drove horse, mule, or ass, 10 cents. For each vehicle drawn by a horse, mule or oxen, 75 cents. THE CHOLERA.

The Medico-Chirurgical Academy have published a statement in the Sacramento papers, making prudent and sensible suggestions in relation to the cholera. In view of the filthiness of the city, the citizens were advised to give Saturday to the cleansing of their own premises, the streets, &c. This suggestion would apply with equal force to San Francisco. One day's service from each, would put the city in a cleanly condition, and the malignity of the disease thereby be greatly ameliorated. The communication adds:

"The city thus cleansed, and disinfecting agents distributed throughout private houses, alleys and streets, will reduce the mortality to so great a degree, as to disarm the disease of its terror, and its destructive effects upon life and business. The relative mortality of this malady in places in which sanitary measures had been early resorted to and effectually developed, is, according to the best statistical records, at the lowest consideration, fifty per cent. in favor of cleansing!

Let this be understood, one half of the lives now daily sacrificed, may be saved by what means? At the farthest, the most that can be required of each individual, is one day's labor. One day's labor would be sufficient to save the lives of so large a number of our fellow citizens—our neighbors. Indeed, we do feel that we are but asking people to save their own lives. For no man knows who is to be the next victim. Is it too much to ask that this day may be appointed to this humane and self-preserving measure? We would earnestly recommend all persons to avoid those immediate causes of the disease which need but be mentioned to be fully appreciated.

The neglect of a relaxed condition of the bowels, sleeping in badly ventilated apartments; keeping of very late hours; inordinate indulgence in taking stimulants, especially those that easily acidify; undigestible food, such as cabbage, radishes, beans, meat pies, raisins, fruit, cakes, and salmon. We would particularly recommend that persons living in the city, where a physician can be at all times and hours consulted, should not take the nostrums with which the community is already flooded. Delay in taking advice, is the certain ruin of many who die with this malady.

Persons ought to sleep in the second story, and especially sleep warm.

INFLUENCE OF FEAR.—The unnecessary alarm which the presence of the cholera seems always to carry in its train, is in our opinion the most potent means of propagating the disease. Did people regard this as they do consumption, or other diseases which carry off annually a greater number of victims than the cholera, we think the mortality would be greatly lessened. The depressing effect of fear upon the vital energies is well known; and recovery from any disease is greatly retarded where there is an absence of a cheerful, confident state of mind. Let cheerfulness prevail—let each pursue his calling, and pursuee his accustomed habits of life, avoiding excess and unnecessary exposure, and his system is in the best possible condition to resist the attacks of epidemical or other diseases.

DEPOPULATION OF SACRAMENTO.—We are informed by an intelligent gentleman from Sacramento City, who came down in Saturday night's boat, that the people are leaving either for the mountains or for San Francisco by every means of conveyance, and that scarcely more than twenty five hundred persons remained. Business was almost entirely suspended and the streets deserted. The increasing ratio of mortality exercised a prejudicial effect upon the public health through the alarm created in the minds of the citizens. We trust, however, that this condition of things will not continue long, but that the pestilence will very soon disappear from the Sacramento valley.

DEATH FROM CHOLERA.—We are pained to announce this morning, the death from cholera of Justice W. M. Hoffman. Saturday morning he started for San Jose, on business, was attacked on the way, and died at Tayler's hotel, about half way between the two cities. He was a man universally respected, and his death will be mourned by a large circle. What makes the circumstance still more painful, is the fact that he had sent for his wife and family, who will probably soon be here, to find the husband and father in the grave.

We are also grieved to announce the death of M. Harmon, well known as a milk dealer, at the Mission, Saturday night, of the same disease.

NEWS FROM THE STATES.—Another steamer is now due from the Atlantic side. The Tennessee was to leave Panama on the 15th ult., and if so, she is due to day. We shall probably hear her guns early to-morrow morning, at the farthest.

☞ In giving place to the following communication, we have only to say that our information was derived from a policeman, to whom the friends of Mr. Ford made the statement which we published, that the body was not permitted to remain in the hotel. If they chose to make another statement, it is no business of ours:

JUSTICE.—As the friends and acquaintances of W. H. Ford, who died at the San Jose Hotel on the night of the 31st ult., we deem it but an act of justice to the proprietors of that house to correct the misstatements that have been published in regard to Mr Ford's treatment by them while there. The undersigned, in company with the deceased, put up at the San Jose Hotel on the morning of the 31st ult. Shortly after our arrival, the deceased complained of being unwell, and wanted a place where he could lie down, which was at once granted. His symptoms rapidly grew worse, and in the course of twenty or thirty minutes, the landlord suggested the propriety of calling a physician, which was agreed to, and accordingly one of the gentlemen of the house went out and obtained the services of one of the best physicians in the place. Every attention and kindness was shown the deceased, as well by the proprietors of the hotel, as by his physicians, (a consulting physician having been called) from the time he was taken sick until he died, which was at 2 o'clock on the morning of the first inst. When the landlord was informed that the young man was dead, it was thought best that he should be removed from the house, in which suggestion we fully concurred, and accordingly carried the deceased out upon the square, where we attended him till daylight, and then had him decently buried as soon as a coffin could be obtained.

FELIX G. SMITH,
JAMES L. ALFORD.

A CARELESS POSTMASTER.—We occasionally hear of instances of neglect on the part of those in the public service which seems to us quite reprehensible. One has recently come to our knowledge in the case of Mr. E. Cooper, Post Master in Santa Clara. A gentleman of our acquaintance had gone from this city to that beautiful and healthy village to improve his strength after sickness, leaving behind orders for certain letters of considerable value to be forwarded to his address at the Post Office there. They were so sent. He called day after day for them, and the Post Master, without taking the trouble to look, told him there were no letters for him. At last, the gentleman was ready to return with improved health, and as a final resort went to the Post Office and found two letters. But alas! it was too late for him to receive any benefit from them; and he was obliged to put up with his loss as well as he could.

We are very sorry for this cause of complaint, and would not make it public if it could be avoided. The San Jose Office is sometimes complained of, as has been that in Stockton, now much improved. As a general remark, we have always found just grounds of complaint against Post Offices to exist in exactly inverse ratio to their importance. Where one well founded complaint exists against that of San Francisco, which serves hundreds of thousands, ten can be found against the smallest Office in the interior of the State.

FURNISHING STORE.—A want which has been seriously felt by every gentleman in San Francisco has recently been supplied by Mr. Leighton, in Commercial street, who has established a Gentleman's Furnishing Store where can be found whatever is necessary in that line of business. The stock of silk and flannel undershirts, drawers, gloves, cravats, fine linen, &c. &c., is equal to the best and most fashionable Broadway store, and gentlemen can obtain at very reasonable prices whatever they want for the replenishing of their wardrobes. Measures are taken for suits, and returned from New York in ninety days executed in Jennings' most recherche style. Leighton is bound to do a large business as soon as it can be known that he has everything in the way of an outfit. Call and see him: but first look at his announcement in our advertising columns.

FAT BEAR.—There are some luxuries in California that they don't have on the "Atlantic side,"—for instance those products of our mountain fastnesses, fine fat grizzlys, weighing any number of pounds up to twelve hundred. On Saturday Messrs Mahony & Finlay, of the Fulton Market, sent us a beautiful slice of one of these "lords of the forest," which was cut from the fatest of the family we have ever seen. We had a fine supper of tender steak, and a quart or two of pure oil, enough for several young gentlemen who desire to "cultivate" a gentle moustache. We are told that the Fulton was crowded with people anxious to get a sight of the remains of Mr. Bruin.

☞ The Coroner held an inquest yesterday over the body of a Chilian, who died on board a vessel bound down the coast. Verdict: Death from old age and exhaustion.

EDITORIAL RAMBLINGS.

NUMBER III.

The exciting incidents of the past two weeks have so filled up the public mind, and so occupied our own time, that we have been unable to attend to matters of more trivial interest: consequently an account of our further "Ramblings" about the country, has been deferred till "a more convenient season."

In the excursion we made a few weeks ago, in company with a party of gentlemen, to the Valley of Sonoma, and to the westward, around San Pablo Bay, we enjoyed a pleasure seldom before experienced. The quiet, fertile valleys that lie nestling amidst the ranges of the Coast Mountains, possessing inexhaustible elements of agricultural wealth yet to be developed, and the wild solitude of the mountains over which lay our path, diversified with orchard like groves of oaks, deep ravines, and cool, clear brooklets, formed pictures of nature in her primeval beauty, more romantic and grand than the pencil of genius could even but faintly convey to the eye on canvass.

There is a charm in the scenery of California that fastens itself upon the soul of every one who has a taste for the picturesque and wild. To gallop across the valleys, and over the hills—sometimes covered with verdure and scattered forest trees to their summits, sometimes barren, and piled with rocks upon rocks in grotesque forms—for miles and miles without the sight of a human being or habitation, is certainly exhilarating in the highest degree. No wonder, then, that so many who return to the older States after a residence in this, become discontented and unhappy, and soon find their way back again, with a view to a permanent sojourn in a country where all is young and fresh, vigorous and enterprising.

After a ride of some thirty miles from Sonoma, over the mountains and through the Valley of Petaloma, we arrived rather the worse for wear, at the hospitable rancho of the late Capt. B. Simmons, of this city, known as the Novata Ranch. We were received with great courtesy and cordiality by the brothers of Capt. Simmons, who, with their families, were residing in that beautiful and secluded vale, far away from "the busy haunts of men."

This valley is situated on the westerly side of San Pablo Bay, about eight miles to the northward of the Mission of San Rafael, the county seat of Marin, and is surrounded on all sides, except the east, by mountain ranges, rising to the hight of from one to two thousand feet. The area of arable land in the whole valley does not probably exceed eight thousand acres; and a more lovely or fertile spot cannot be found in California. The ranch consists of two square leagues, about three fifths of which is upland and mountain, but nearly every acre is covered with wild oats, making it admirable for raising stock, of which a large number, cattle and horses, belong to the property. A raucheria of Indians, numbering some thirty or forty souls, furnishes a cheap, though not very efficient kind of labor, for the cultivation of the soil, or attending to the herds of stock.

On the following morning—it was the opening of a lovely day in October—he vaqueros drove the herd of several hundred horses into the corral, and soon a number of fresh animals were accoutred for a ride through the valley. The scenery, as we wound about among the hills—fertile tracts of bottom land opening to view when least expected—was beautiful beyond description; and after an excursion of some ten or twelve miles, all the time on the property, we returned to the house at eleven o'clock, with appetites that would have killed a dyspeptic with envy; and we found a breakfast worthy to satisfy the demand, presided over by the charming lady of Captain Frank Simmons, the right of whom in this secluded nook among the mountains, with no other than Indian huts within many a mile, was as refreshing to the eye as were the viands palatable to the taste.

At one P. M., we mounted our own caballos, and commenced to retrace our way to Sonoma, which we reached just as the shadows of evening were closing over the valley. On the edge of the plain, we passed within shot of a large herd of deer, who seemed but little to regard us, as they slowly trotted away. A night's rest made us as good as new; and next morning, while Col. A. and Capt. H. were wheeled down to the embarcadero in Capt. Stoneman's buggy, Judge F. and ourself exhibited our pedestrianism in a walk of five miles, arriving just in time for the boat. Again under the care of Capt. Lamb, of the Georgina, we had a pleasant run to this city, where we were safely landed at sundown—thus terminating one of the pleasantest trips we have yet made into the interior of the State.

☞ We have, in type, an interesting extract from a sermon preached by the Rev. A Williams, which will appear in to-morrow's paper.

REPORT OF DEATHS SINCE LAST SATURDAY

We are indebted to N. Gray, Esq. City Sexton, for the following report of deaths, made from the returns in his office. It is found by Mr. Gray extremely difficult to ascertain the nature of the disease, names, or other data of the deceased. The necessity for a Board of Health, to secure a proper registration of all these particulars, is now more apparent than ever. This list does not, of course, embrace all the deaths in the city. Our application to Mr. Newell was met with an uncivil reply, and a denial of information entirely confirmatory of the statements of the Alta regarding him,—of which we shall have more to say.

Saturday, Nov. 2.—John S. Comstock, said to be from Chicago; Elijah B. Wood, Mass., 38; Capt. Smith; Wm. Rowland, John Cam; Samuel B. Matthews, Maine, 32; Betsey Gould, Lewiston Falls, dysentery, 24: Albert Rames, do, cholera, 24; Eliza Bird, England, typhoid fever, 30; James Taylor; Margaret Taylor, convulsions, 3 1-2 mos.; Wm. Bolfish, Gardner, Me., cholera; Richard Naylor, Geelong, cholera, 46; unknown man on Pacific street, opposite Waverly House; same, killed by explosion of the Sagamore; Stephen Ladwick, Eng., chronic diarrhœa; William B. Archer; George Wilbur, dysentery, 3; John Nichols, Boston, cholera, 60; James Reavely, cholera, 30; Marcus Verguides, Sinola, Mex., cholera, 33; E. B. Weed, 38; Joseph Reese, cholera; Charles B. Leach, inflammation of the lungs; two others names not ascertained.

Sunday, Nov. 3—Thomas Bailey, Eng., dysentery, 25; Thos. Flannagan, Newbury, Mass., dysentery, 12; James Ford, New Jersey, cholera; James Comball; Martha Broad, Somerset, Eng., 2 yrs 3 mos; Norman Hewett, Kane co., Ill., cholera, 42; Miss Aire, England, cholera, 25; Isaac F. Jones, Utica, N. N., cholera, 29; Wm. M. Hoffman, New York City, cholera, 35; Leonardo Casse, Sonora, Mexico, old age and debility; E. P. Hathaway, Union co, Ohio, cholera, 37: Richard Nayle, 46: James M. Knight, 26.

CORONER'S INQUESTS.—Coroner Gallagher held an inquest on Saturday, on the body of an unknown man, found in a vacant square near the Waverly House. Verdict of the jury, "death from cholera, produced by dissipation." He was from Sydney, and had been drunk ten or twelve days. He said when he came here he did not expect to live more than seventeen days, and his expectations have been realized.

The same officer held an inquest upon the body of Marcus Urquierte, a Mexican found dead in an alley leading out of Pacific street. Verdict, death from cholera.

Also, on the mangled remains of a man found on the ill-fated Sagamore. He was over six feet in hight, and had on black corduroy overclothes, buckskin drawers, and the remnants of a blue blanket overcoat. Verdict in accordance with the facts.

Also on a foot and portion of a leg found on the Sagamore.

PRINTING OFFICE IN A LOTTERY.—The office advertised in our columns to be drawn in a lottery, is the property of H. L. WINANTS, Esq., and is a very fine establishment. That with which we intend to dress up the Pacific News is now on its way across the Isthmus, and expected to arrive during the present month.

THE FIRE AT THE HOSPITAL.—An impression prevails to some extent, that the building in which the fire originated, was set on fire by the throwing of coals upon the roof by an insane man, in the Hospital. Such is not the fact. The private watchman employed by Dr. Smith, first smelt the smoke, and on proceeding to the building, accompanied by others, found a clapboard at one corner pulled off, and the fire burning inside, leaving no doubt that the fire was caused by an incendiary.

TAKING THE CENSUS.—Many of the up country census takers find great difficulty in making anything like an accurate return of the population—especially the foreigners. The Mexicans fancy the census men, collectors of the foreign miner's tax, and vamos in double quick time, without giving name, or anything else. Not one in five enticnde English, even sufficiently to give their name. Not they!

PROVIDENTIAL ESCAPE.—Mr. Phillip Grove, a native of New Bedford, and the owner of a blacksmith establishment in our city, started up from San Francisco last Monday, on the Mariposa, which was sunk on her passage up. He returned to San Francisco, performed funeral services over a friend who had died of the cholera on the 29th, and the same evening took passage on the Sagamore. He was standing on the after part of the cabin reading when the boat swung out, and the side becoming darkened by the shadow of another vessel, he moved to the other side, and one moment after the whole side of the cabin where he had been standing was riddled to splinters by the explosion. Mr. G. escaped without a scratch, and the next day embarked on the Victor Constant, which was run into and injured by the San Joaquin. He has most fortunately escaped through a whole chapter of accidents.

FROM SACRAMENTO.

We copy the following items of intelligence from the Transcript of Saturday:

DEATH OF A MEMBER ELECT.—We are under the painful necessity of announcing the death, by cholera, of Mr. L. F. Dunlap, the gentleman who was member elect to the Assembly from Sacramento county.

FEARFUL MORTALITY.—We understand that the cholera broke out on board the bark Christiana that left this city two or three days ago, for Realejo, and that seventeen deaths took place before she reached New York. At the latter place, the remainder of the passengers went on shore. There must have been some infecting cause on board, for the bark Splendid left within a day or two of the same time for Panama, with a much larger number of passengers, and not a death occurred on board.

THE LIEUT. GOV.—Yesterday morning Lieut. Governor McDougall, who has been threatened for some time with cholera, lay at the point of death. Through the skill of his physician, however, he was snatched almost from the grave, and last night was doing very well, and we are informed that he will probably recover.

BILL OF THE GOLD HUNTER.—The Council of Sacramento voted $1,800 to the steamer Gold Hunter, instead of allowing the full bill—$2,400.—The same amount was also allowed to the steamer Senator.

FURTHER FROM EL DORADO.

PLACERVILLE, Oct. 28, 1850.

Messrs. Editors—The bearer of despatches from the Governor passed through this place on Sunday evening, on his way to the scene of Indian disturbances. B. F. Ankeny, Esq., reported himself here this morning direct from the quarters of the battalion; the force now numbers 200 men, regularly enlisted.

An election took place for officers, which resulted as follows: William Rogers, colonel; L. H. McKinney, lieut. colonel; J. C. Johnson, adjutant; B. F. Ankeny, quartermaster; John Brown, commissary.

The head quarters of the battalion is about 30 miles east of here, on the emigrant road. Detachments have been sent out towards the Cosumnes, where it is said the Indians are encamped. The number of warriors is variously reported as being from 300 to 500, well armed, and having Spaniards or Frenchmen as leaders.

Firing by platoons was heard early this morning in the direction of the Cosumnes; it was supposed that one of the scouting parties was having a skirmish with the Indians. The latter have sent all their squaws into the mountains, which shows a determination on their part to commence hostilities upon the whites. A number of men have already been killed, and two men and a woman came in here last week surrounded by the Indians.

Respectfully yours,
H. W. BEE.

CHANCE FOR A FORTUNE.—Attention is called to the advertisement in another column of the drawing of a lottery, the prize being a magnificent invoice of printing materials now in port, decidedly the best property to hold brought to California.

POURING IN.—The owner of a tent on the road from Sacramento to the southern diggings, informs the Stockton Journal, that in the past six days he counted seven thousand persons pass his place on their way south to winter diggings.—[Stockton Jour.

"GRAB GAME."—On Tuesday evening a Mexican entered "El Placer" saloon and quietly laid off his serapa and shoes, for the purpose of taking a hand at grab game. The game was closed for the evening at one of the monte tables, and the bank, enclosed in a canvass bag, was lying on the table behind the dealers, who were engaged in conversation; suddenly the bombre raised the bank and dashed for the door—a messenger, in the shape of a bullet, followed him before he had gained ten yards, and he dropped the bank. He escaped, but whether wounded or not, we were unable to learn.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

J. HOE FOR THE KLAMATH!—Captain JAMES MCMAHON, having been commissioned by the Governor as commander of the "KLAMATH RANGERS," with authority to subdue the hostile Indian tribes on the Klamath river and its valuable tributaries, is ready to enroll volunteers for that service. He will repair to Klamath City on board the TARQUIN, which is expected to sail on THURSDAY next, 7th inst., touching at TRINIDAD. The contemplated field of operations is in a pleasant region of country, possessing a mild and salubrious climate, and abounding in fish and wild game. Whenever the objects of the enterprise are accomplished, those engaged in it can find good winter diggings about 70 miles from the coast, which were abandoned on account of the hostility of the savages in that neighborhood, whilst yielding from $8 to $18 a day to the hand.

The Nicaragua route is by many a mile nearer to all the ports of the United States, and the salubrity of the climate must be deemed an advantage that Panama cannot possess."

THE DOOMED COUNTRY.

Every now and then, it has been the fashion among certain small fry politicians et id genus omne, to bash up a dish of "bunkum" for the benefit of other fry still more insignificant than themselves.—They talk loudly about the downfall of Greece and Rome—and the downfall of England, and the downfall of the United States. They are "destructives" par excellence, and remind one hugely of "Senor Don Bombastes Furioso." For our part we prefer the "laughing" to the "weeping" philosophy, and come weal, come woe, we stand by the United States, and after this, England. The following from Ledru Rollin's Deadance de l' Angleterre, is too good to be lost:

Who can deny that England, since the date of the Act of Navigation, has acquired the dominion of the seas., and that her naval power, warlike or merchant, is now the first in the world?

Who can deny that England in a commercial and manufacturing point of view, has become under its former policy, the first in the world, and the chief moving power, the universsl agent, and sovereign people of credit, circulation and commerce?

Who can deny that British agriculture, on an equal extent and quality of soil, gives a greater return for the labor of the husbandman, than lands the most furrowed by the plow or favored by the sun?

Who can deny that the British Isles—two miserable little spots, when lookod at on a map of the world---have for centuries taken their place among the greatest empires, and obtained an illustrious place in the history of the powers of the earth?

You might as well deny the existence of the sun as deny any of these things. To overwhelm any audacious comparisons, England has only to exhibit its fleets, its harbors, its domains, its banks, its manufactories, its iron foundaries, its markets, its docks, its arsenals, its girdle of colonies and fortresses encircling the globe---composing an empire larger than ever obeyed the laws of Rome.

To speak only of its metropolis. What marvles those riches accumulated between the two banks of the Thames, peopled by a forest of masts, and which almost superhuman activity incessantly presses and agitates! Here are to be seen deep and spacions docks, the ample bosom of which no breath of wind ever agitates, and in which every vessel of every nation, from the gigantic three-decker, to the Chines junk, finds its allotted place, and where all the flags of the earth lie side by side, as in the common emporium of nations. There the tribes of every nation of the world are arranged in perfect order, in gigantic magazines, consisting of themselves an entire city.

Here are dockyards, dry docks, forge and iron works, where under the hammer and the flame, steel and iron are twisted into a thousand fantastic forms. Industry labors at everything; and yet all this, great as it is, is as nothing compared with the works at Birmingham, Manchester, Sheffield, Leeds, Merthyr-tidvil, and Lanarkshire. In the midst of the din, the clang, the volumnes of smoke, the ocean of flame, which mark these astonishing scenes, you would suppose that the fable of the Titans had come to pass, and that giants of a rebel race are preparing to scale the heavens.

Farther on the eye is fatigued, the mind turns around at the immensity of the circulation which is perpetually going forward.---From one of the bridges over the Thames, you behold from the midst of an atmosphere of smoke, hundreds of vessels which pass and repass under your feet, docile and obedient to direction like so many human beings; at one moment almost rivalling the railway tain in speed, at another stopping at the hand of a child; racing with each other, and yet steady to there object; approaching, but never touching; plowing through the waves with their wings of flame, seeming to caress where a single touch would be death! In the city itself, thousands of chariots and wagons, of omnibuses, drawn by powerful horses, of carriages darting at speed through the throng, all passing and repassing, crossing, intermingling, and et never coming into collision, so experienced and wary are the hands which guide them. Meanwhile, on the foot pavements, a countless multitude of people, intent on business, amusement, or pleasure, incessantly pours along; and this is the same from the West India docks to the West End parks, from Blackwall to the splendid squares of Belgravia and Hyde Park, which form the brilliant girdle of that scene of toil and labor, as the Elysian fields do the realms of Tartarus. Never has a people in the material world developed its industry on such a scale of immeasurable grandeur. The pen cannot describe the animation of its labors, the activity of its commercial and manufacturing cities, and th exteat of its rural industry. Figures alone can convey an idea of its immensity.

Great Britain, which is only two hundred leagues long, and the soil of which is far from rivalling in riches the plains of Lombardy or Aragon, yields annually to the labor of the husbandman a revenue of above one hundred and forty millions sterling; an income which, great as it is, is almost doubled by the value of similar productions in its dependencies and colonies.

Its industry, commerce and manufactures, yield a revenue superior to that magnificent land estate; thanks to its inexhaustible mines, to its natural riches, to its admirable system of internal communications, conducted by eighty-six carals, and seventy lines of railway, in all, the British Empire exceeds twelve thousand millions of francs, or nearly five hundred millions sterling.

The power among the nations is rendered manifest by the number and greatness of its fleets and dominions. In Europe it possesses, besides the lesser islands adjoining Great Britain and Ireland, Heligoland, Gib:altar, Malta, and the Ionian Islands; in Asia, Hindostan, with its tributary States; Ceylon, and its forced allies in Scindre and the Punjaub, that is almost an entire world; in Africa, Sierra Leone, with its dependencies; the Isle of France, Fernando Po, the Cape, and St. Helena; in America, Upper and Lower Canada, the West Indies, Bermuda, Newfoundland, and all the lesser provinces in North America; in Oceanica, the whole of New Zealand, Norfolk Island and New Caledonia. These united territories contain a hundred and fifty millions of inhabitants, including the twenty-eight of the British Isles.

As to its commercial marine, two facts are sufficient to make its immensity known. It has nearly thirty thousand vessels, including those propelled by steam, beside eight thousand in the colonies; and in a single year it exports more than twenty-eight millions pounds worth of cotton goods—an amount, for a single article, greater than the whole export of the manufactures of France for everything put together."

MARRIAGE IN CALIFORNIA.

It is said the Californians are born on horseback; it may also be said they are married upon horseback. The day the marriage contract is agreed on between the parties, the bridegroom's first care is to buy or borrow the best horse to be found in his vicinity. At the same time he has to get, by one of these means, a silver mounted bridle, and a saddle embroidered with housings. This saddle must have, also, at its stern, a bridal pillion, with broad aprons flowing down the flanks of the horse. These aprons are also embroidered with silk of different colors, and with gold and silver thread. Around the margin runs a string of little steel plates, alternated with slight pendants of the same metal. These, as the horse moves, jingle like a thousand mimic bells.

The bride also comes in for her share of these nuptial preparations. The bridegroom must present her with at least six entire changes of raiment, nor forget, through any sentiment of delicacy, even the camisa. Such an oversight might frustrate all his hopes, as it would be construed into a personal indifference, the last kind of indifference which a California lady will forgive. He therefore hunts this article with as much solicitutde as the Peri the gift that was to unlock Paradise. Having found six which are neither too full nor too slender, he pricks them in rose leaves, which seem to flutter like his own heart, and sends them to the lady as his last bridal present. She might naturally expect him to come next.

The wedding-day having arrived, the two fine horses, procured for the occasion, are led to the door, saddled, bridled, and pillioned. The bridegroom takes up before him the godmother, and the god-father the bride, and thus they gallop away to church. The priest, in his richest robes, receives them at the altar, where they kneel, partake of the sacrament, and are married. This over, they start on their return; but now the gentlemen change partners. The bridegroom, still on the pillion, takes up before him his bride. With his right arm, he steadies her on the saddle, and in his left hand holds the reins. return to the house of the parents of the bride, where they are generally received with a discharge of musketry. Two persons, stationed at some convenient place, now rush out and seize him by his legs, and before he has time to dismount, deprive him of his spurs, which he is obliged to redeem immediately with a bottle of brandy.

The married couple then enter the house, where the near relatives are all waiting in tears to receive them. They kneel before the parents of the lady, and crave a blessing, which is bestowed with patriarchal solemnity. On rising, the bridegroom makes a signal for the guests to come in, and another for the guitar and harp to strike up. Then commences the dancing, which often continues three days, with only brief intervals for refreshment, but none for slumber; the wedded pair must be on heir feet, and their dilemma furnishes food for good-humored gibes and merriment. Thus commences married life i California. This stream, it is to be hoped, is much smoother than its fount.

KLAMATH GOLD MINES, River and Town—One of the most extensive fields for speculation at present in California.

The attention of the public is now called to this very important part of California. The town of Klamath is situated on the bank and at the vicinity of the mouth of a river, upon the numerous tributaries of which the most productive and extensive geld mines have been discovered of any now in existence in California. The Harbor (at the upper end of which this beautiful town site is situated) is both commodious and secure, and possesses the very superior advantage over all the other ports upon the coast between the Columbia river and San Francisco of a perfectly safe entrance. The river is a magnificent stream and navigable by steamers, according to the opinion of steamboat captains and others in every way competent to judge of the matter, at least 70 miles up; at, and even below which point, these very rich gold mines commence. Merchants and capitalists who are desirous of realizing a handsome profit upon their goods and an enormous return for their capital cannot enter into a better speculation or make a more safe investment of their means in any part of California, from the fact that there are at present about 2000 miners at work upon this river and its tributaries; and there is every reason to believe, from the numerous satisfactory statements of the miners, relative to their success during the last year, that next year there will be many times the number. The immediate rush to these mines from all parts will be immense, and in fact almost unprecedented; and this town, which may be said to be adjacent, in consequence of the water communication into the very heart of them, must and will undoubtedly be insured a speedy and almost magic growth, and by this time next year will be a very respectable rival to (if not totally eclipsing,) Sacramento and Stockton. Miners who have, during the last summer expended to such a deplorable extent their useless toil and labor in the southern mines, and have actually lost money in the place of making it, by the unsuccessful and numerous damming operations, and the scarcity of gold there, are strongly recommended to turn their attention to these mines, as the average amount dug last year, putting it at an infinitely lower estimate than from the statements of the miners we would be warranted in putting it, one ounce per day to the man. This alone is sufficient to justify the opinion that there is ample room for more, and when it is taken into consideration that not over one tenth part of the gold region has as yet been explored, the certainty of room is rendered beyond doubt. The enormous tax upon the miners for packing of provisions will next year be effectually obviated by the aid of water communication, which extends into the very heart of the mines. Goods can be taken from the deck of steamer by the miners in the place of the pack of the mule, and provisions now furnished at an expense of $1 50 for the mere packing, can be afforded for ten cents, thus enabling the miner to lay by the fruits of their labor, instead of expending so great a quota for subsistence. To persons wishing to invest capital to an advantage in town lots, an almost unparalleled money making speculation is now open; as lots at the present time can be procured at a comparatively low figure, and the price that they will be disposed of next spring will be high. Arrangements have been made for a steamer to ply between the town and the mines, which will warrant to miners the supply of provisions forthwith.

A map of the town and river can be seen at Messrs. Shultz & Palmer's, foot of Jackson street; at Bullett & Patrick's, corner of Jackson and Sansome streets; and at Worthington, Beale & Bunting's.

Any required information respecting the Mines, River, Town and Harbor, by application to Mr. John Gray, at Messrs. Schultz & Palmer, or to Mr. T. Bunting, at the firm of Worthington, Beale & Bunting, on Montgomery street. o15

O'Connor, wherein the costs are unpaid in the sum of seven hundred and eighty-seven dollars, besides the accruing costs in this behalf, and the said execution being against the goods and chattels, lands and tenements of the said O'Connor for the costs aforesaid, and the same being to me directed; by virtue of which I have levied on certain leasehold property of the said O'Connor, to wit: On all that certain lot or parcel of land, situated at the Mission Dolores, on the south side of Mission street, the same being 200 yards square, excepting one 50 vara square lot, recovered by Charles Brown in the suit aforesaid. The aforesaid property being held by the said O'Connor and Francis Salmon, by virtue of a lease from the Pastor of the Mission Dolores for the term of four years from and after the 12th day September, A. D. 1849, at an annual rent of $400, payable quarterly in advance, with the privilege of extension for two years more at a revaluation by a referee. THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE of California, District of the County of Santa Clara: Jose De Arnaz vs. Genoveva Garcia Mangel, Emanuel Mangel and Lorenzo Geoffrey. Petition to foreclose mortgage, &c.

Whereas, JOSE DE ARNAZ filed in this Court on the 16th day of May, 1850, his petition, showing, among other things, that on the 20th day of December, 1849, Genoveva Garcia Mangel, the wife of Emanuel Mangel, was the owner in fee of a certain house and lot in San Jose, adjoining and in the rear of the house lately occupied by Messrs. Larrain, Benitez & Co., and fronting on Garcia street, did on that day mortgage the same, with the consent of Emanuel Mangel, her husband, to said Arnaz, to secure the sum of five hundred and sixty dollars, payable four months from date: That afterwards, on or about the 15th day of January, 1850 said Emanuel Mangel and Genoveva G. Mangel executed a mortgage on the same premises to one Geoffrey, of San Francisco, for abont fourteen hundred dollars; which said mortgage was falsely dated the 19th of December, 1849, with intent to defeat the prior mortgage lien on said real estate, and to cheat and defraud said petitioner out of his debt. Said petitioner prays discovery and full answer to the above facts, that said mortgage to Geoffrey be set aside as fraudulent, and that said premises be sold to pay petitioners's mortgage, and for general relief.

And it being proved by affidavit to the satisfaction of this Court that Emanuel Mangel is a non-resident of this State, notice is hereby given to Emanuel Mangel to be and appear before the Honorable Court of the Third Judicial District, for the County of Santa Clara, on the fourth Monday of December, 1850, at the court house in San Jose, then and there to answer said petition, or, in default thereof, the allegation therein contained will be heard in your absence and decreed accordingly.
